Jets Bomb Power Plant In Major War Escalation

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief jets today bombed the industrial complex on the outskirts of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong. It was considered a major escalation of the war.

The American planes struck a thermal power plant only 11 miles from the vital city, which services the capital of Hanoi. They dumped 12 tons of 3,000-pound bombs on the plant but low clouds, dust and heavy smoke prevented an accurate assessment of damage.

The Air Force pilots reported heavy anti-aircraft fire but sighted no Soviet-supplied surface-to-air (SAM) missiles, which are known to guard Haiphong.

A Thunderchief was reported shot down in the Haiphong raid. Its pilot was picked up at sea by a rescue plane amid geysering water from exploding artillery shells and heavy gunfire from an approaching Communist junk.

Heads for Sea
The pilot of the Thunderchief aimed his falling plane over the South China Sea. He later was hospitalized at Da Nang with a broken leg but otherwise was well.

The Haiphong strike apparently was one of the stiffest measures which President Johnson recently warned the Communists about after the return from Viet Nam of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

In ground action, U.S. Marines pushed on through the Phuoc Valley 335 miles north of Saigon in a relentless search for the remnants of a Viet Cong regiment, trapped there last week. But it appeared the Communists had all but disappeared.

The Thunderchief downed over the Communist North today was hit by 37mm anti-aircraft fire, officials said. The pilot was in the water 11 minutes waiting for the Albatross rescue plane to pick him up.

Auto Ring Pair Held In Killings

FLINT (UPI) — Extradition proceedings were scheduled to get under way today for two car factory workers who pleaded innocent Tuesday to charges in connection with the mysterious slaying of two youths, their alleged partners in a car theft ring.

Police said Indiana authorities wanted to extradite Thomas Pugh, 26, and T. J. Anderson, 34, both of Flint, to Gary, Ind., where the bodies of the victims were found Nov. 13, 1964.

Detective Lt. Francis Folaron said informants told police Pugh and Anderson shot Carlos Reeves, 18, and Dwight Burke, 16, to silence them and protect their car stealing business which thrived until the two men were arrested here Monday.

Attendant Shot

Folaron said Pugh and Anderson learned police were seeking Burke for shooting a service station attendant here Nov. 10, 1964. The men feared the youths would talk about the auto theft business if arrested on the shooting charge.

They shot the two boys in the head, stripped both bodies of all identification and dumped one in a field and the other outside an abandoned housing project on the other side of Gary, Folaron said.

The bodies were not identified until Monday when police linked the victims with Pugh and Anderson, Folaron said. He said parents of both victims identified the bodies.

"We think they eliminated the boys to protect themselves," Folaron said.

Police said a pistol recovered from an apartment where Anderson's car friend lived was shown in ballistic tests to be the same one used to shoot Reeves and Burke. The bullet which wounded the service station attendant here also came from the same pistol, officers said.

More Arrests Possible

Folaron said he expected to arrest three more men in connection with the auto theft ring but added they were not involved in the slayings.

He said the ring would steal new cars here, drive them to New York and sell them after changing the serial numbers. They then would steal cars in New York, drive them back to Flint, change the numbers and sell them here, producing a round-trip business with free transportation both ways.

They also pulled auto thefts in Indiana and Illinois and thus in Gary in connection with a car theft job when the youths were shot, Folaron said.

ist Lt. Raymond Bauer of Evansville, Ind.; Capt. Joel Ruiz of Laredo, Tex.; S.Sgt. Harrel Bayer of Rohnert Park, Calif.; Airman 1.C. J. L. Williams of Orlando, Fla., and S.Sgt. Harry Barnes of Detroit, Mich.

While they were carrying out the rescue, Communist junkies closed in with guns ablaze and artillery shells fired from a nearby island exploded within 75 feet of the Albatross.

"The water was pretty rough with about a three- or four-foot swell," Nicholas said at Da Nang. "There were some islands around. One of them was shooting at us. We saw the fire, apparently some kind of artillery, and large explosions on the surface of the water."

The F105 pilot said his engine stopped about two minutes after his plane was hit. "I went for the water as hard as I could and aimed out over the sea," he said.

President Ready To Resume U.S. Aid To Pakistan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is prepared to resume and even expand U.S. economic aid to Pakistan—suspended when the Kashmir fighting broke out last spring—but only "if our purposes are as one."

The Chief Executive made the promise Tuesday night in a formal toast at a White House dinner honoring visiting President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. He coupled the pledge with an announcement that he was sending a top-level medical team, headed by his science adviser, Dr. Donald Horning, to Pakistan to help improve medical training and public health.

"We can speed in many ways the transition from a subsistence economy to a life of plenty and purpose for every Pakistani," he said.

The White House dinner capped a day of what Ayub described as "very, very frank" talks. Johnson and the Pakistani president planned to resume their discussions with a long meeting today at 5 p.m. EST.

Though officials would not comment on the substance of Johnson's talks with Ayub Tuesday, it was apparent from the unusual frankness of their formal toasts at the dinner—usually only ritual statements of friendship—that the two firm-minded men had covered a lot of ground.

They established a "search for peace" theme in their talks from the moment they met Tuesday morning. And at the dinner later Johnson stressed it as "the greatest hunger and the most burning thirst of us all."

Ayub, who admitted that "to a certain extent" he was responsible for recent differences between Rawalpindi and Washington, expressed the hope Pakistan could live in peace with India. "We need peace to do the noble tasks upon us," he said.

AFL-CIO Leaders Back War Effort

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — AFL-CIO leaders pledged solid backing today for any measures that President Johnson decides to use to win the war in Viet Nam.

A resolution, expected to get overwhelming approval from the AFL-CIO Convention, said the war in Southeast Asia was a Korea-style conflict that was part of a "Communist drive for dominating the world."

American defeat in Viet Nam might lead to Communist control of Asia and thus "gravely endanger" the survival of the United States, it said.

De Gaulle Shifts Campaign Image

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle, fighting hard for re-election against the increasing strength of leftist candidate Francois Mitterrand, has begun a hasty effort to revamp his campaign image.

Conscious that his sweeping picture of France's future role in the world may not be reaching the public, the 75-year-old general is attempting to widen the base of his voting strength before next Sunday's election runoff.

De Gaulle, who received 44 per cent of the vote in the Dec. 5 poll compared to Mitterrand's 32 per cent, is adjusting his views to reach the 15 per cent of the nation which backed middle-of-the-road progressive Jean Lecanuet. The votes are considered likely to swing the election Sunday.

interviews. He answered fairly probing questions from a Gaullist journalist first on home affairs and then Tuesday night on foreign policy.

De Gaulle used the interviews to puncture charges by Mitterrand and his supporters that he was trying to wreck Western unity, the Franco-American relationship, the European Common Market and NATO.

Regarding charges that he was trying to wreck the European Common Market, the general said he was only trying to protect the interests of the French farmer and that France's differences with the European community could be solved as long as no political conditions were attached.

Mitterrand, who tackled foreign questions Monday, said he also favors some readjustments in NATO but prefers to use friendly talks in Washington.

McNamara Says Chinese 2 Years From Missiles

PARIS (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today Communist China may start stockpiling nuclear weapons and the missiles to deliver them within the next two years.

McNamara addressed a meeting of the foreign and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

McNamara said it is estimated the Chinese Communists can produce enough fissionable material in two years to

Romney Plans Viet Nam Aid

DETROIT (UPI) — Gov. George Romney told a Detroit television audience in a special one-hour program Tuesday night he planned to tell Michigan residents what they can do to help the battered peoples of Viet Nam.

The governor, taking a hint from his successful drive to send a Christmas package to each Michigan soldier or sailor in Viet Nam, said he would make known in the next few days a list of items and programs Michigan residents can contribute to in aiding the homeless and injured peoples of the war-torn Asian country.

A seventh-grade student asked Romney what he could do to help the "soldiers in Viet Nam."

Romney said it would be helpful if the people in this country, particularly in Michigan, could meet some of the needs of the people during their struggle against the Viet Cong.

More than 2,300 persons called the Detroit television station (WJEC-TV) sponsoring a year-end report to the people to ask Romney a wide variety of questions.

He called a question about his seeking the presidency in 1968 an "if" question and declined to state whether he would run for a third term as governor in 1968.

"This is not the place or the occasion" to make such announcements, Romney said. "I haven't decided what I am going to do in 1968," he said.

U. S. Combat Losses Heavy

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. forces suffered their second highest combat losses of the Viet Nam war last week, it was reported today. A report from U.S. military headquarters listed 91 Americans killed, 316 wounded and seven missing in action or captured.

Viet Cong losses were far heavier. The report said 1,084 Communists were killed and 148 captured. There was no estimate of the number of enemy troops wounded and carried away by comrades.

South Vietnamese casualties were also heavy. A total of 310 government soldiers were killed, 590 wounded and 373 missing.

conduct a small nuclear test; program and begin a small stockpile of atomic arms.

ICBM's By 1975

The defense secretary said it is estimated Peking could have medium range missiles by 1967 and ocean-hopping intercontinental missiles by 1975.

McNamara told his European Allies, "This is not a pleasant prospect."

Further, in his sober warning, McNamara said it is also estimated Communist China will have nuclear material to make nuclear bombs for aircraft as well as missile warheads.

McNamara also gave a stern appraisal of Communist China's conventional military forces.

He said their standing army of 2.3 million men is the world's largest and is backed by mammoth reserves, militia and para-military units.

McNamara reported that the Chinese Communist air force now is estimated to total about 1,500 planes—Soviet designed MIG15s, 17s and 19s, plus a few supersonic MIG21s.

Large Air Force

The defense secretary classed this as a large air force but said it is armed by aging equipment. He said it now is mainly useable for defense and support of ground troops.

McNamara stressed that Peking's conventional non-nuclear military might cannot be ignored. He said its shadow now hangs over India, Viet Nam and Laos.

It may be used to support Peking-backed guerrilla warfare in Africa, Latin America and Asia, he said.

He said Thailand already has been "targeted" by Peking for insurgency warfare.

The three day NATO meeting started Tuesday. Defense was scheduled as the main topic today.

American sources said the McNamara plan would involve a buildup of the existing 3,000-man NATO mobile force created to deal with emergencies on the alliance's northern and southeastern flanks.

They said the McNamara plan calls for a force capable of dealing with "brushfire" situations anywhere in the NATO area.

This would mean the force would have to be entirely self-contained, with its own logistic and air support. Existing mobile units are dependent on national air forces for ferrying troops to northern Norway or Turkey in case of acute emergency.

The McNamara proposal was said to be part of an overall plan to have U.S. Allies take over a larger share of Western defenses in Europe.

Youth Admits To 200 Burglaries

JACKSON (UPI) — Police said today a youth charged with a break-in admitted pulling about 200 burglaries in central Michigan. Officers said details of the thefts matched the youth's account.

Donald Henigan, 20, Lansing, was held today while police checked further into the series of night-time house burglaries he described.

Henigan pleaded guilty Tuesday to a breaking and entering charge in connection with a $600 burglary at a Jackson County home. Circuit Court Judge John Simpson postponed sentencing.

Officers said Henigan told them he pulled 15 burglaries in Jackson, five in Jackson County, 55 to 80 in Lansing, 7 in East Lansing, 25 in Ingham County and others in Shiawassee, Ionia, Montcalm, Gratiot and Saginaw counties.

Damage Suit Hits Pontiac Hospital

PONTIAC (UPI) — A $500,000 damage suit against the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and four of its staff members was filed Tuesday by the mother of one of the three victims killed in a fire at the hospital last month.

The suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court resulted from the death of Kimberly Ann Brunel, who was injected with a mixture of an anesthetic accidentally mixed with ether last month.

Filed on behalf of the victim's mother, Mrs. Loretta Brunel, the suit named the hospital, Dr. Stanley E. Abrams, D.O., Dr. Lloyd R. Goodwin, D.O., Joan Booth, R.N., and Margaret Lainger, R.N.

According to the suit, the hospital "was guilty of willful and wanton negligence in failing to supervise its employees."

It said Dr. Abrams drained ether from an operating room machine into a partially used bottle of anesthetic and then put the bottle back on the shelf.

Blastoff Perfect On Third Attempt

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Gemini 6 astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford streaked into space orbit with perfect launch today and began a 100,000-mile chase to catch up with Gemini 7 and rendezvous nose-to-nose.

After two heartbreaking failures on the pad, Gemini 6 performed magnificently and thundered off at 8:37 a.m. EST on a cloud of smoke. Six minutes later, Schirra and Stafford were in orbit on a loop-the-loop pursuit of Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell.

Gemini 7 was about 1,200 miles away and about 185 miles high at the time Gemini 6 went into orbit six minutes after launch. Rendezvous should take place 5 hours and 49 minutes later - 2:26 p.m. EST over the far Pacific.

"We didn't get to see the lift-off," Gemini 7 reported, "but we saw them coming through the fog" over the Atlantic.

Forty-three minutes after lift-off, mission control said Gemini 6 would be given a "go" for 16 orbits—one full day's flight. If all goes well with the rendezvous, Schirra and Stafford will splashdown Thursday morning. If not, they may stay aloft another day.

The lift-off was an amazing feat of engineering. Some 200 experts working round the clock since Sunday converted a fault-ridden $15 million booster rocket into a flawless machine packing the power of 44,000 average automobiles.

Launch Sets Record

The countdown, as it had been for each of two previous attempts to launch Gemini 6, was a "storybook" run against the clock. It never faltered.

The launch itself set a new record for the United States which, thanks to Borman and Lovell, now holds all the records in the book. It was the first time four human beings had been in space at once.

"That's great, very good," Gemini 6 radioed after being told its orbit. The lift-off was timed to the split second.

"You've got a big, fat go from us," Schirra radioed. His voice was as calm as though he was sitting in his living room.

Can't Do Better

"You can't do any better than that," said Donald K. (Deke) Slayton, chief of the astronaut office.

It was the first time four men had been in orbit at one time. The Russians had three up at one time.

The initial Gemini 6 orbit was 100 miles at its low point and 166 miles at its high point.

"Wonderful," Gemini 7 command pilot Borman said when told of the lift-off and the beautiful orbit.

"The only problem" Schirra could see was "a little smoke on his window," ground control said.

"It might have been a little of that Florida haze," ground control said with a laugh.

"Say, that's real nice," came the word from Gemini 6 after lift-off.

"I've got a good second stage."

The second stage blew apart from the first stage and the capsule 2 minutes, 36 seconds after lift-off and plummeted down into the Atlantic.

The Gemini 6 "bird" was visible to the naked eye considerably longer than usual on space launches. Watchers at the Cape could see it in the bright blue sky for a distance of about 40 miles before it disappeared from view.

Schirra Calm

"Looks good, looks good," said flight director Christopher C. Kraft at mission control in Houston.

Within the first minute after lift-off at 8:37 a.m. EST, the booster rocket with its 18-foot capsule on top was speeding at 1,342 miles an hour and gaining speed.

The first stage of the two-stage Titan rocket separated on schedule. Everything seemed going beautifully after two heart-breaking "aborts" for Gemini 6 last October and again last Sunday.

"Everything looks good," ground controllers reported.

Schirra's voice was "just as calm" as it was Sunday when he sat quietly in the capsule while the rocket thundered beneath him and failed to lift off.

Speed rose to 6,000 miles an hour and the pressure of gravity began to bear down on Schirra and Stafford.

At 82 miles in the sky, the velocity increased to 13,000 miles an hour.

The countdown was flawless, and the lift-off magnificent in the brilliant sun at Cape Kennedy.

Enter Capsule

Grimacing broadly, Schirra and Stafford entered the space capsule at 6:35 a.m., EST as a brilliant sunrise began to lighten the Cape.

"It's been a long wait," radioed the record-setting Borman and Lovell.

Gemini 7 sailed on as the target in space for history's first meeting of two manned capsules almost 200 miles up.

A steak-and-eggs breakfast fortified the 42-year-old Schirra and the 35-year-old Stafford after they were awakened at 4:02 a.m., EST.

Set Record

Borman and Lovell, history's champion astronauts, collected one of the most amazing recovers of their mission at 4:09 a.m. EST. They logged 507 hours 18 minutes "man-time" in space to surpass all the orbital manhours recorded so far by all Russia's cosmonauts combined.

Schools Call Election On Building, Millage

BY DAVE ANDREWS
The Escanaba Area Board of Education will ask school district voters Feb. 1 to approve a $1.2 to $1.5 million bond issue for elementary schools and renew 3.0 of 3.8 mills for operating expenses.

The proposals will be separate questions on the ballot. Action was taken Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Area Board of Education at the School Administration Building.

Exact cost of the bond issue proposal has not been determined, but it will include funds for three new elementary schools in Escanaba, a combined boiler plant for the Junior High School, its cafeteria and a new Washington School, and additions to the John Lemmer, Soo Hill and Washington Schools.

"Assuming the growth rate of Escanaba does not accelerate faster than it has in the past 10 years, the new buildings should satisfy elementary school needs in the city for the next 20 years," said Forrest Henslee, board member.

A building program has been under active study by the Board of Education for the past several months.

Elementary schools have been a constant problem in Escanaba since the Franklin School was torn down and a $273,000 bond issue proposal to replace it was defeated by 257 votes in Dec. 1963.

Currently, elementary students are bussed from both the Franklin school and southside areas to other schools in the city. It is expected that if the building program is approved,

Area To Take Kennedy School

Administration of the John F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children will be assumed by the Escanaba Area Public Schools, probably by Sept. 1966.

Take over of the program was approved Tuesday night by the Board of Education, subject to the conditions that properly certified teachers can be obtained and a suitable contract worked out between the Area Board and the Delta-School-Craft Intermediate School District.

The current program will be continued under the Delta County Retarded Children's Association, which has operated the school since its establishment in a Project Pride building in north Escanaba near the Webster School.

Officers of the Retarded Children's Association had requested through the Intermediate Board that the Escanaba Area District assume responsibility for the program this year, but Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett said he could not locate qualified teachers. Barrett said attempts to obtain a waiver of the deadline for state aid application to give the Area district time to find teachers were denied by state officials.

Under this type of special education program, the state will pay 75 per cent of the cost of the program.

In other business, classroom discussion of a P. T. A. Council "Code of Responsibility" was allowed after a topic entitled "Religious Duties" was deleted. Mrs. Robert Moserfeld had objected to using school time to force religious discussions on all children.

Mrs. Ruth Sedenquist of Escanaba, who had taught in the Escanaba public schools before resigning in the mid-1950s to raise a family, was given a contract to teach the second first grade at the Webster school. The first grade at Webster was divided because the size of the class was above the maximum limit of 40 set for one teacher.

all in-city bussing would be eliminated.

G. Arntzen & Co. Architects, Escanaba, were retained by the Board of Education to draft detailed plans for the projects and serve as supervising architects for the entire project.

The building program, if approved, would include:

- An eight-room southside school to be built on a site to be determined on the Athletic Field property;

- An eight-room school at the old Franklin School site to replace the Franklin School which was torn down;

- A new, eight-room Washington School to be built on the Junior High block to replace the 63-year-old current Washington school which would be torn down;

- A six-room addition to the John Lemmer school to relieve crowding at the Jefferson School and also to allow for anticipated population growth in that part of the city;

- Two additional classroom and a multi-purpose room at the Soo Hill school;

- A multi-purpose room at the Wells school;

- A new boiler room to heat the Junior High School, the Junior High cafeteria and the new Washington School.

A new heating plant for the Junior High is required because of the city's plan to phase out city steam heat.

The millage vote, which would be a separate question from the bond issue, will ask renewal of 3.0 of the current 3.8 extra voted mills for operating expenses of the district. The current millage expires this year. Extension would be for five years.

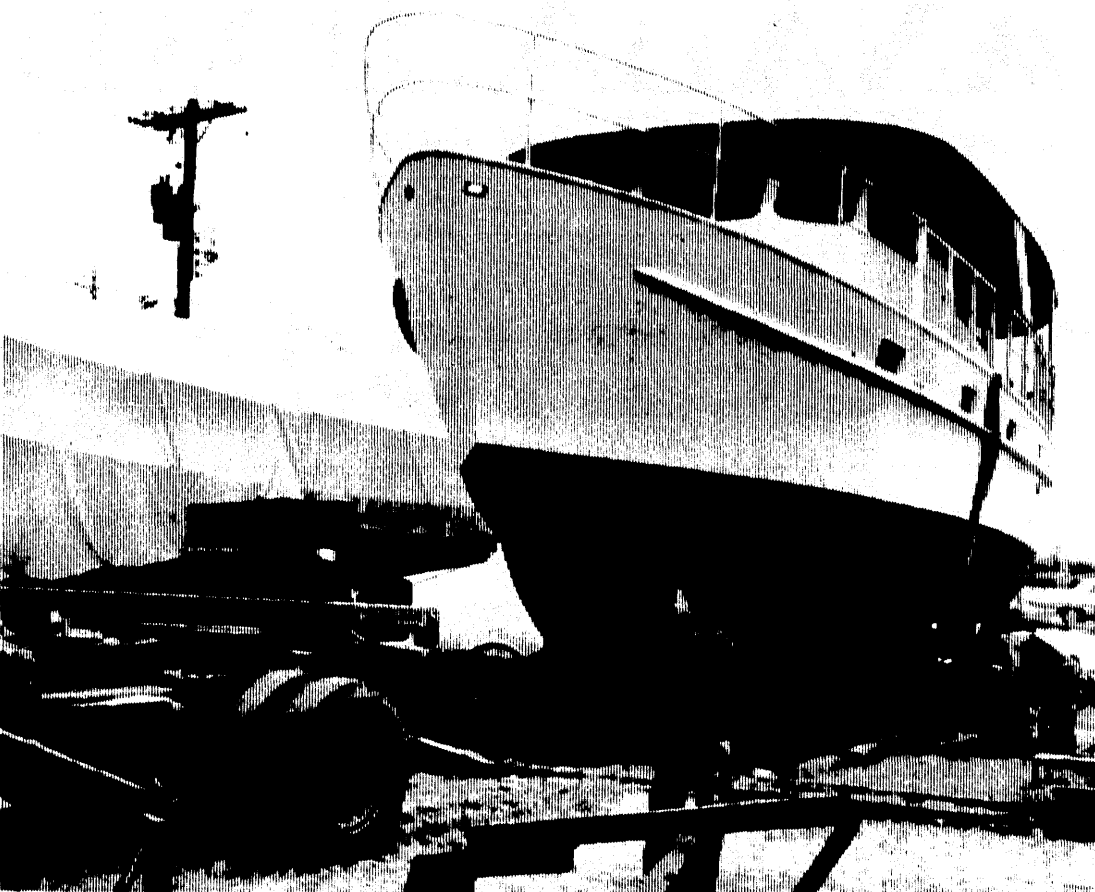

Dr. Vernon Johnson, vice president of the board, said the millage request was lowered from 3.8 to 3.0 mills "principally because of the new state aid formula" which provides school districts with additional state funds for operation.

The Board said that despite the planned addition at the Lemmer School and construction of a new Franklin School, there are no immediate plans to demolish the Jefferson School. The building, which was constructed in 1939, would continue in service.

Building plans would add 22 elementary classrooms in the city of Escanaba, but Board members pointed out this would only be an eight-room increase over what the district had when the old Franklin school was being used.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett said the bond issue would be financed over a 26-year period. Exactly what the bond issue would mean to yearly tax bills in terms of addition millage, was not specified.

The Board said this would depend on the final cost estimates as determined by the architects.

READY FOR LAUNCHING is the Empress, 50-foot off-shore cruiser made in Escanaba by the T. D. Vinette Co. for Joseph Angelucci, Detroit businessman. She went into the water Tuesday and will cruise to Detroit under her own power, leaving Friday or Saturday after trial runs here. (Daily Press Photo)

Last Boat Of Busy Year Launched By Vinette Co.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The world of boats — boats for commerce and for recreation — each year hears a bigger splash coming from Escanaba.

The splash is the sound made by the launching of boats by the T. D. Vinette Co., whose latest launching was that of a 50-foot diesel off-shore cruiser at the Escanaba yacht basin marine railway Tuesday.

The sleek but sturdy steel-hulled deckhouse cruiser, shining in her white paint, was constructed by the Vinette Co. for Joseph Angelucci, Detroit businessman. She was designed by Neils Lucander, marine architect who has been making an international stir with his inventive genius and now lives in Detroit.

"She will get trails for a couple of days," said T. Dale Vinette, who with Emerson Kidd are partners in the boat-building enterprise. "Lucander is coming up and with a crew will take her to Detroit, leaving here Friday or Saturday."

Have Work Ahead
The craft, No. 6 this year from the Vinette production line, has a steel deckhouse as well as hull, is completely insulated, and is powered with a Perkins single diesel engine.

The owner will fit out the craft after she is received in Detroit and has plans to cruise her to the Caribbean in the winter of 1966-67.

"This is the last launching of the year for us," said Vinette. "It has been a good year, near our record, and we are laying keels for two more boats right now. One of them will be ready for launching in late April next spring. We have enough orders ahead right now to keep us busy through a couple years, with deliveries scheduled into June, 1967."

Growing Business
The increasing number of Vinette boats from Escanaba is a tribute to the firm's careful attention to construction details — combining all of the strength of steel with the seaworthiness of good design and sleek appearance.

The business was established by Vinette back in 1947, just shortly after he came home from World War II service with the U. S. Navy. Kidd has been a partner in the venture since 1950.

Starting small at 517 Ludington St., the Vinette operation was moved to a larger plant at 2201 6th Ave. N. in 1955. It has been there since, but to make space for the growing volume of business there have been additions to the plant.

Although Escanaba has been a port city for more than a century, boat building has never been one of its industries until Vinette began the construction of all-steel vessels.

Through the years Vinette has been turning out more and larger boats — just how many he hasn't had time to check on. Conservatively it would be about 75 (all sizes) in the past 15 years.

For Many Uses

There have been boats for commercial fishing, for pleasure boating — both sail and power — and for many other uses of business and industry and government. The boat launched on Tuesday was the "second largest" ever turned out here, said Vinette.

Largest in length was the 60-foot all steel tug constructed for Capt. Frank Becker of Detroit in September of 1956. Becker used the boat for both business and pleasure.

Other boats built by Vinette included a 50-foot harbor launch for the City of Milwaukee; a 31-footer for the J. T. Wing Co. to be used in the business of ship chandler on the Detroit River; and for Bay City an all-steel work boat with square bow and stern.

The future of the Vinette Co. in Escanaba? If the past is an indicator it should be a story of continuing success. The firm's good reputation is firmly established with a quality product. Perhaps Escanaba will make an even bigger splash in marine circles in the years ahead.

Councilman On Advisor Group

Harold J. Vanlerberghe, Escanaba councilman and civic leader, has been named by Gov. George Romney to a 40-member Governor's Advisory Committee on Local Government.

In announcing the committee on Tuesday, Gov. Romney said: "I am forming this special advisory group in order that I may be as fully advised as possible of the problems that face local government."

The committee, composed primarily of mayors, city and township supervisors, will hold its first meeting in Lansing next Monday.

"One of today's most pressing problems is the future status of state and local government," Gov. Romney said. "I have advocated for some time that both must be strengthened and maintained if our federal system is to survive."

Vanlerberghe is the only member of the Local Government Advisory Committee from the Upper Peninsula, according to the initial listing of the 40-member group.

Active in many areas of local government, Vanlerberghe is traffic manager of Mead Corp., Escanaba Division, manufacturer of paper.

He was born in Escanaba and is a former president of more than 300 billion gallons of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, was recently elected as past New Orleans on the way a director of the Michigan

Harold Vanlerberghe

Municipal League, is a past president of the League's U. P. regional chapter, and as city councilman is also a member of the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

He was among the organizers and has an active role in the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress.

On any given day of the year, more than 300 billion gallons of Mississippi River water flows past New Orleans on the way to the Gulf.

Gas Fund Interest?

City Urged To Finance Airport

Immediate action by the City of Escanaba to "pick up the check" for capital improvements at the Escanaba Airport was urged Tuesday by members of the Chamber of Commerce's Airport Study and Aviation Committees.

Suggestion was that the city commit interest from its $1 million sale-of-the-gas utility fund for the $153,000 local share of a proposed $521,000 improvement program at the airport.

The proposal is expected to be presented to the council by City Manager George Harvey.

Harvey, who attended the meeting to appraise civic feeling following the county-wide defeat of an airport millage question on Dec. 6, said he would recommend that the council accept the proposal.

Stress Need Now

"In order to get this (state and federal aid) budgeted in 1967 we have to act now," Harvey said.

The group, which included two industrial leaders from Gladstone, was solid in its belief that airport improvements are still desperately needed in Escanaba and Delta County, despite rejection of the millage for improvements.

"Improvements are definitely needed," said John O'Brien, Escanaba insurance man. "If the citizens of the county aren't willing to support the airport then I think we should do it as a city."

Anthony said Tuesday's meeting was called to consider the next step after defeat of the millage proposal. He said there were three possibilities: 1. Let the matter drop; 2. Present the proposal to the county again; 3. Approach the city for interest on the gas utility sale funds and proceed as planned.

Studies Urged

Harvey, though he said he would recommend to Council, that the city assume responsibility for capital improvements, expanded on the alternatives.

He pointed out that reappointment is going to change the composition of the County Board of Supervisors and that this could have some effect on its thinking; that there is concern that the north-south runway of the airport may need relocation; that there is concern over noise of jets in the community; that perhaps a broader base — including Schoolcraft and Alger counties — is needed to support the airport; that relocation near Rapid River or some other site for a regional facility should be considered.

Both Ken Buckland, president of Northern Michigan Engineers, Inc., and George Douglas, general manager of Mead Corp., appealed for extensive studies to be made on the costs and future plans for local air transportation.

'Piecemeal' Job?

Buckland said the first step should be development of an up-to-date master plan. Douglas encouraged a preparation of a detailed cost analysis including improvements and normal operating expenses.

The group also mentioned the possibility of a "piecemeal" improvement program for the airport, where a terminal building and new access roads would be built as soon as possible and a go-ahead on runway extension would be delayed until a commitment on jet service from North Central Airlines is received.

Skate Market Ready To Open

The used skate market at Club 314, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will open on Thursday, Dec. 16, at 7 p. m. The service will be available evenings from 7 to 9 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and on Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4. Wednesday evenings are reserved for the Golden Age Club and the Senior Citizens and the market will be closed on those nights.

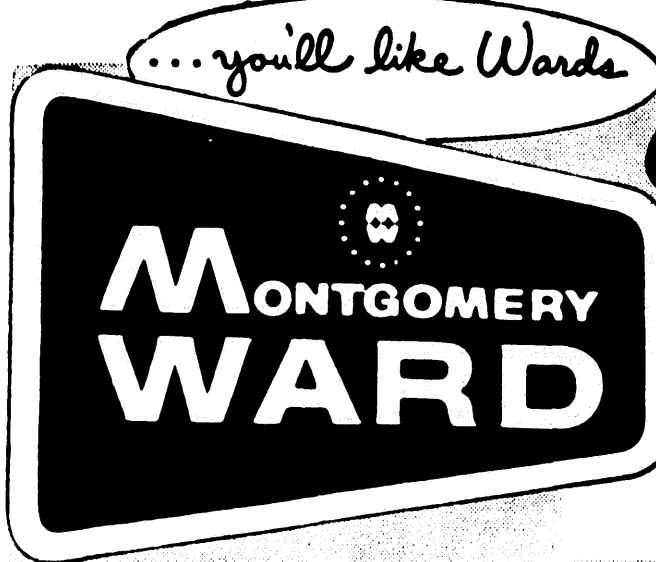

Anyone with skates to sell is asked to attach a cardboard tag with the following information: name, address, phone number, size of skates, and selling price. Slightly used skates usually sell for about half of the original retail price. Only skates in good condition will be accepted and placed on sale.

Patrons who may find it inconvenient to pick up their money after the skates are sold are asked to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope and the money will be mailed to them directly.

All of these services are available to residents of the area at no cost. Irene Pirlo will again be in charge. Anyone wishing further information is asked to call Mrs. Pirlo at ST6-3551 after 7 on the evenings the market is open or after 2 in the afternoons on Saturdays.

Keeping Our Dairymen

In 20 years Michigan's dairy farms have lost 365,000 cows from their herds. The process, of course, washed out a lot of farms and a lot of herds completely, while other farms and herds grew. The net result was this huge decrease in the number of dairy cattle.

But the volume of milk production in this double decade didn't diminish. In 1945 Michigan's cows averaged only 5,600 pounds of milk a year and at present they're producing an average of 9,200 pounds. This is a great triumph of farm improvement, but obviously the process has put a lot of dairy farmers out of business.

Dairying accounts for 28 per cent of all the farm income in Michigan. In the Upper Peninsula it is much greater—about 50 per cent—because the U.P. has a heavy dependence upon its dairy herds for cash income, lacks the Lower Peninsula's sources of farm income from apples and small fruits, sugar beets, peppermint, beans, corn and other crops.

Beef cattle farming has come in to use some of the Upper Peninsula grasslands abandoned by marginal dairy operations, but this industry still is a younger brother to dairying, although one with a lot of growth signs.

The recent U.P. milk marketing order hearing in Green Bay showed the Upper Peninsula's dairy farming in difficulties. The U.S. Department of Agriculture, which administers the milk marketing orders, was asked at the hearing to ease these difficulties by not enforcing a 20 cents a hundredweight price reduction in the order effective Dec. 1. Anything which provides half of our Peninsula farm income ($16 million or more) should concern economic planners and the testimony at the Green Bay milk hearing showed the size of dairy farm troubles.

The feed situation is serious, especially in the eastern U.P. The price situation is also serious and the 20 cent cut would mean a $2 a day loss to most U.P. dairymen in an already marginal situation.

The bare knuckles economist may say in this situation: "Let the able survive," but the condition of change is national, and if dairy farming is to remain the mainstay of U.P. agriculture that it has been for a half century it must keep farmers on the land in sufficient numbers to assure a large volume milk supply in the dairy areas. A trickle of milk is no longer useful. Today's processing and marketing facilities are set up to move large volumes at low cost.

The best dairy farm in the world in an isolated situation, then, is in trouble. We are fighting to keep the largest possible number of our best dairy farmers on the land in a condition of sufficient income to make their life attractive. This is one of the best ways we've found to convert the growths of our northern lands—the grasses and roughage and grains—into saleable products.

The price reduction would be very harmful and so is the denial of surplus grains for cattle feeding. As one farmer testified about the grain denial—"It's more needed now than when we got it before!"

Why U.S. Balked

By RAY CROMLEY Secretary of State Dean Rusk's advisers believed that behind-the-back talks at that time would cause the Saigon government to fall and would lead Vietnamese who had been fighting the Communists for a decade to give up. It might well have meant troop and civilian desertions and a Red take-over from within.

Think, for example, of the plight of a hamlet chief who had defied Red terrorists for years, if he learned the Americans were holding secret meetings with the Communists at a time when the war was going very badly and he was making it clear he would deal only on his terms.

At this particular time, the Vietnamese leaders and many of the Vietnamese people doubted the United States would stay and back them up. In August of that year, every Vietnamese I met — Foreign Minister Quat, army officers in the field, local hamlet officials, university students—asked me if the United States would really stay or whether we were getting ready to abandon them to the Reds.

2. The United States at that time had channels into Hanoi. Our contacts were the diplomats of certain third countries (One is understood to have been Commissioner Seaborn of Canada.)

The major contacts were in touch with Ho's top officials, including his premier and foreign minister.

They reported Ho believed he was winning and not interested in negotiations.

They made it clear that any Ho agreement on a meeting was on the understanding the United States was defeated and looking for a way to abandon South Viet Nam gracefully.

The implicit terms of the proposed meeting, as U.S. diplomats understood them, were that this country would agree to regard the aggression in South Viet Nam as aggression but as purely an internal civil war in which Washington had no business meddling.

A few months after the date of the proposed U.S.-North Viet Nam meeting in Burma, Ho announced terms which included these points. It was understood they were preconditions.

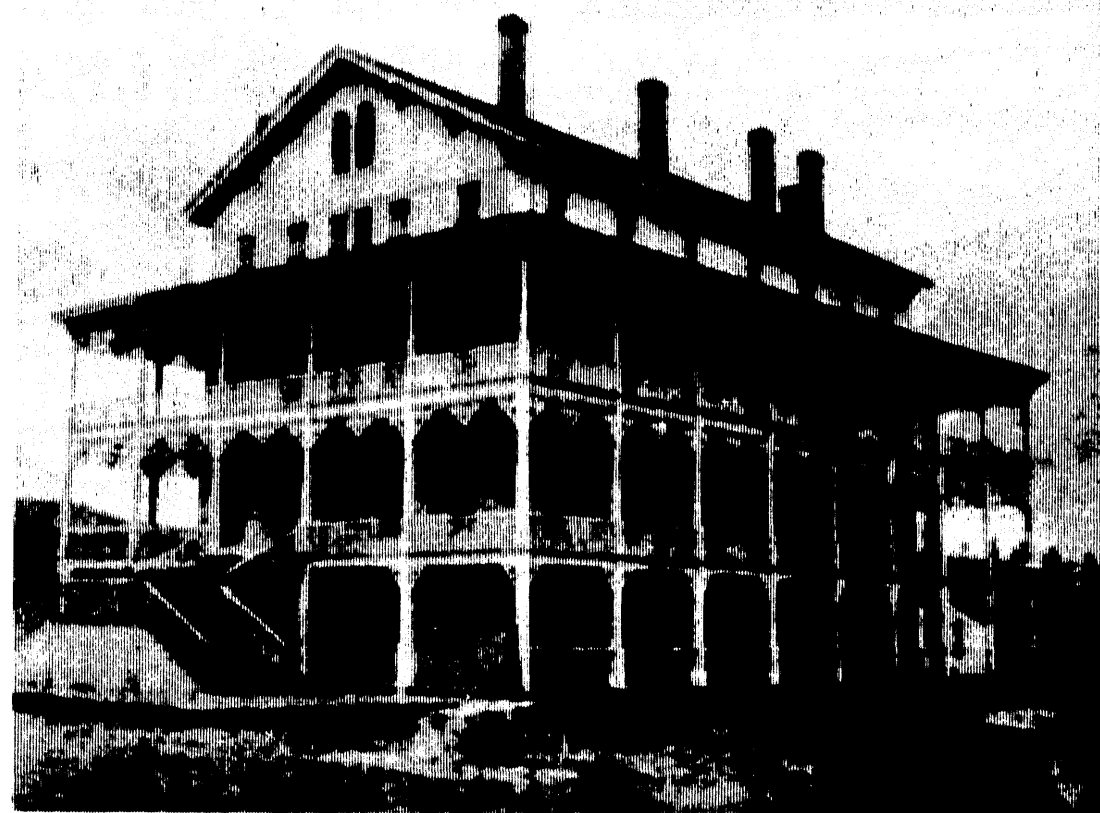

a. The Saigon government must immediately be thrown out and replaced by a coalition government (part Communist) committed to an internal program formulated by the North Viet Nam Communist party and published by the National Liberation Front.

b. U.S. troops must immediately be removed from Viet Nam.

c. The South Vietnamese army must be revamped according to Ho's concepts.

To have agreed to the direct and indirect conditions surrounding the proposed Rangoon meeting would have meant abandoning what the United States was fighting for in Viet Nam.

The studies continuing from the last spring include the following U.P. areas: Menominee, Schouler and Delta.

THIS BIG HOTEL building was constructed by the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. in Hermansville in the last century and it never had a guest. It burned when completed, before it was put to use and was known as "Meyer's Folly" for C.J.L. Meyer, the founder of Hermansville. Meyer Township is named for him and Hermansville is named for his son. (WL&L Co. Photo)

Charming Community In 87th Year

Hermansville Stars As Wood Industry Museum

HERMANVILLE — This community is unique in many ways. One of the outstanding ones is its retention of so many reminders of its lumbering past. Nowhere in Michigan is so much of the past of a wood industry town still to be seen in one community.

One needs only to turn off U.S. 2 a bit to be amid physical reminders of Old Michigan of the Pine Days and the Hardwood Days, of pioneering in wood working machinery, in empire building with railroads, of reminders of the terrors of fire in an Age of Wood that Stewart Holbrook wrote about in "Burning an Empire." In 40 years Hermansville had 14 disastrous fires that swept away sawmills, barns, acres of lumber piles, hotels, a church, stores, warehouses, dwellings and other buildings.

Hermansville was created by industry and has lived by it ever since. Before the opening of the Menominee Iron Range and the founding of Iron Mountain, Hermansville was a sawmill town with a postoffice in 1878.

Flooring Birthplace The "Henry Ford" of the hardwood flooring business produced the historic hardwood flooring machines at Hermansville in 1889 and under the IXL brand his precision, mill-finished hardwood flooring went out from Hermansville to fine building projects throughout the nation. IXL flooring is in the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City and the Yellowstone Park lodges and it was in the mansion that John Munro Longyear built in Marquette and then tore down in a huff and moved to the East.

Hardwood flooring manufacture was pioneered at Hermansville and flourished for more than a half century until 1943 and the man who built the first flooring machines—and you can see some of them at Michigan State University today—was Charles Julius Ludwig Meyer, who signed his name C.J.L. Meyer, and who, for a rather obvious reason was called "Alphabet" Meyer. His son Herman gave his name to the village.

IXL Town Hermansville became IXL Town and the IXL slogan went out on shingles and flooring and other wood products and variations like XLNT and WEXL.

The Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. had two sawmills at Hermansville, Mill No. 1, twice destroyed by fire and twice rebuilt, the "Pine" Mill, and Mill No. 2, the Hardwood Mill, which survived for 60 years and which, with the last No. 1 mill was dismantled in the 1940s. There was also a cedar mill, built in 1883 and operated—according to legend—for only a day and a half because its high speed machinery spewed ties through the end of the mill into a swamp. The mill building, converted to other uses, endured for 65 years.

In 1949-50 the huge lumbering complex—its big mills gone—was rehabilitated by G. Harold Earle, the owner, a modern electric and air operated band sawmill was installed in the former flooring plant, new planning mill equipment was installed and the dry kilns modernized. The sawmill operated until 1960, the planning mill and kilns through 1964.

While many of the records have gone to museums, many of the buildings of the old wood industry complex remain and among them an architectural gem from the last century which has housed the headquarters office of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. since 1883.

Community Center Several families once lived on its second floor, and it still has a tenant and the downstairs offices are much as they were when the United States got the good news from Dewey at Manila. The visitor is welcome and the first step inside the door takes him back into the last century.

There are pictures of "Meyer's Folly," the great four story hotel that burned before it got a guest, of the 12 charcoal kilns, the old boarding house and other facilities, whose sites can be seen from the windows. The Superior Lumber Co. and the St. Onge Wood Products Co. lease space in the great flooring warehouse today and the Furber Co., manufacturers of furnaces, is in one of the buildings. While wood industry was changing in the area Hermansville was changing. Its First National Bank now has resources in excess of $2,000,000.

Lumgerhausen Brothers formed Brothers, Inc., and built a metal fabricating plant in 1956 which manufactures liquid storage and handling systems. The operations now covers much of the nation and the firm is also using two buildings of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co.

The Wildwood Country Kitchen Restaurant and Service Station on U.S. 2 welcomes the visitor to the community and the area, whose attractions include popular Hermansville Lake in the village, and more than 70,000 acres of woodland open to public hunting in the vicinity. At Fairborn, only 8 miles west on County Road 333 the Garisson Pheasant Farm offers open range hunting for these colorful game birds and the Cedar Springs Trout Pond invites fishing in a picturesque setting.

The late John F. Nieman, who had operated a general store in Hermansville early in the century returned to the village in 1929 after association with the famed Fromm Brothers in fur ranching in Wisconsin and started his own Hiawatha Fur Farms. His holdings eventually included 3,800 acres and annual production of silver fox pelts exceeded the projected 40,000. When fickle fashion withdrew favor from the silver fox furs the ranch lands were sold and returned to forest usage and the big Hiawatha Fur Farms pelting plant in Hermansville was acquired by the Clare Bedding Co. and converted into a mattress works, since enlarged.

K-C Forest The Pipkorn Brothers, nephews of John F. Nieman, operate one of the Upper Peninsula's finest mink ranches on U.S. 2 three miles east of Hermansville, rearing both natural dark mink and mutation mink.

Kimberly Clark Corp. has acquired more than 17,000 acres of forest land about Hermansville, managed for sustained yield of pulpwoods and other forest products. Whittens Brothers have built a small metal fabricating plant at Hermansville and also in the area are Spalding Hydraulics, manufacturing speed governors for internal combustion engines, Ray's Cabinet Shop, a new facility for Ray Gurgall's growing business and many commercial enterprises.

The Johnson Lumber Co. mill at Cunard three miles west of Hermansville on U.S. 2 saws two million feet of logs a year. Started by the late Elmer Johnson, a logger, the mill is operated by his sons, Lester and Roy, who have modernized it and installed a log debarker and chipper and other equipment which visitors are invited to see in operation.

25 YEARS AGO

Henry (Dink) Sauers, former city junior tennis champ is easily the best of the younger badminton players in the league here. After five weeks of play he is competing on even terms with the best of the senior club members. Modesty is not a virtue Hank has any undue regard for. Says he, "I will probably win the city tournament this season." What's more, he probably will.

Alphonse J. Gagnier, son of Mrs. Eugene J. Gagnier, 608 S. 19th St., was promoted to the rank of sergeant in the U.S. Army recently. He enlisted in the service April 25, 1937, and received training at San Diego, Calif.

50 YEARS AGO

In the rush at the offices of local physicians, scores of school children are being vaccinated in compliance with the order of A. J. Carlton, city health commissioner.

A new low temperature record for Escanaba and this portion of the peninsula for this season was established when the mercury in the official thermometer at the weather station settled to 8 degrees above zero. The lowest record previously established this season was 16 above zero.

Q—Does the United States Capitol have a prayer room?

A—Yes, a nondenominational room for meditation and prayer is located off the rotunda.

Q—Is a retroactive tax legal?

A—Yes.

Q—What is a "milk shed"?

Ann Landers

He Went Back To His Mother

Dear Ann Landers: I married a man eight years my junior. After four years of trying desperately to make him happy, our marriage is on the rocks. Our daughter is two now and I'm hoping to save the situation for her sake.

We didn't have a fight. He simply told me he was taking his clothes to his mother's house and wasn't coming back. When I asked why, he replied, "I am too immature to face the responsibilities of marriage. I want to live with my mother."

That was three months ago. He telephones every few days and comes to dinner every Sunday. I have refused support money because I am financially independent. I love him and I need him. Please tell me how to make this marriage work. — MRS. P. R. E.

Dear Mrs. P. R. E.: You can't force a mama's boy to be a husband. This juvenile has told you he wants no part of marriage and if you're smart you'll take his word for it.

Since you are financially independent, spend some of your money on a psychiatrist and find out why you love this loser. A normal attachment this isn't.

Dear Ann Landers: I just learned that the armed services will not take a man who has a prison record and I'm burned up. Why should the undesirable characters enjoy the privileges of living in this great country and not have to sacrifice anything?

My sons both served in World War II. The older boy was wounded at Normandy. The younger boy picked up jungle rot in the South Pacific. When I think of the sacrifices made by millions of fine young men while the ex-cons sat out the war at home and made big money, it makes me furious. And now it's happening again.

What do you have to say about this? — M. M. M.

Dear M. M. M.: Serving one's country is a privilege, not a punishment. When a man is convicted of a felony he loses many of his rights as a citizen and the privilege of wearing the uniform is one of those rights.

Dear Ann Landers: In the past two years I have sent you four well-written letters. Not one of them was published in your column.

I am sick of writing letters to you and not seeing my letters as a word trade center.

Shanghai, with almost 7 million population, remains the most populous city in communist China despite its decline as a world trade center.

Everyone Shouldn't Go To College!

Career Counseling In U.P. Needs Aid

"In choice of a career it's not necessary — nor is it even desirable for everyone to go to college," one of Michigan's deans of vocational counseling told school administrators and counselors of the mid-Upper Peninsula at a meeting at Jack's Restaurant, Rapid River Tuesday afternoon.

Michigan State University's Extension Service arranged the conference and Dr. Carl Horn, professor in guidance at MSU, was the lead-off speaker who said that two-year technical training courses in private or public facilities should be considered by young people in their preparations for a career, along with college matriculation.

Need Scholarship

Also heard by the school men and women were Sam Lind, Bay de Noc Community College admissions counselor, Norman Brown, continuing education coordinator at MSU's College of Agriculture, and James Gooch, MSU coordinator of higher education in the U. P. Hagle Quarstrom, Delta and Schoolcraft District school superintendent presided.

Lind said that community colleges, because of their nature in serving community needs, attract some students who wouldn't try a four-year college, but they get tested at a four-year college level. Those in a two-year academic program don't get a watered-down course, but one not as broad as four year college.

Bay College, he said, needs

Ten Haken Is Named Head Of Engineers Club

Irwin Ten Haken of 925 S. 15th was elected president of the Bay de Noc Engineers Club at the annual meeting of the organization held Friday at the Sherman Hotel. The retiring president is Leonard Della Moretta.

Wilbur Montgomery was elected vice president, Joe Ivens is secretary-treasurer, and the board of directors is composed of the officers and Norman Arntzen, Joseph Bal, Clifford Reno, Justin Sweeney and John Erickson.

The Bay de Noc Engineers Club is an association of individuals who are engineers or engaged in related sciences.

After the business meeting the group toured the U. P. Concrete Products plant at Wells, guided by Lawrence Martin.

scholarships. It can't offer them to all students who deserve them, but it has loans and other financial aids for students. Its graduates at Northern Michigan University, he said, rank its academic level as comparable with the university's and they are doing "at least as well as they did with us" at Northern.

Half Change Minds

Dr. Horn said that in counseling young people on career choices (and hence study choices) the schools must give more information, not only on what's available in employment, but also on the future prospects. It must determine the abilities of the student and help him make a wise choice a career.

Fifty per cent of students change their ideas about a career in the first two years at MSU, he said. "Counseling is a job so vast we can't keep up with it. We need to call on the teachers for more aid, so they should know what's available in mathematics careers, and science careers and the other fields, and we have neglected this."

Job Training

"In selection of a college you are particularly fortunate in your new community college at there. Our transfer students from community colleges at MSU by and large are very successful. And with two very fine universities in the U. P. we'd say that your students should look at them before looking farther if they provide what the student wants."

"Studies show that occupational courses increase earnings and job satisfaction and improve achievement in college. I don't personally approve them, but they help youngsters set a goal. One of the weaknesses of our educational system is that youngsters don't have goals. Of more than 800 seniors in 62 schools asked what influenced them in their Escanaba. Many should go vocational choices, only 77 said that schools did it."

Dr. Horn said MSU has 12 colleges, with agriculture the oldest, business the largest, education with 700 prospective teachers now in practice teaching one of the largest in the nation; human medicine the newest.

Urban Renewal Study Asked

The City Council Monday night authorized engaging Vilcan-Leman Associates to prepare detailed reports on urban renewal project for the central Manistique business district, and to prepare an application to be submitted to the federal government.

The plans call for provision of off-street parking and removal of some obsolete buildings. If approved by the federal government, 75 per cent of the total project cost will be provided by federal funds.

The studies will cost about $750 and will be part of the project cost. Two to three meetings, with one probably a public hearing are contemplated as the project proceeds.

Announcement was made that the Army Corps of Engineers will conduct a public hearing relative to improvements to the harbor Jan. 19, 1966. The place will be arranged by the city. Funds have been allotted by Congress for the study.

Local 1196 of the State, county and Municipal Employees union was recognized as exclusive bargaining agent for employees, except administrative, executive, supervisory and clerical personnel, under Act 379. Public safety department employees now are members of the union.

Approval was given for a street light on S. 5th St.

Reports from the manager included one from Consolidated Gas Co., scheduled to provide service here in 1967, showing that their rate is lower than that of another company located in the peninsula. Another letter was from the Michigan Highway Department asking that no permission be given for right-of-way signs until new sign control legislation has been provided.

John Carstensen, Civil Defense director invited the Council and officials to a CD meeting in Marquette today, Dec. 15.

Mayor Merwin White announced appointment of Patrick LaFave to the city planning commission, replacing Henry Trippie.

It also hinted at an expanded State Department of Tourism to coordinate activities of the state's second largest industry.

"This study is a great first step in basic research into an industry which means so much to Michigan but until now had not been studied in depth," Romney said.

"We now are equipped with a scientific basis for determining

Translator Co. Hopes For FCC Go Ahead Soon

Upper Peninsula TV Systems, Inc., of Iron Mountain, which plans a television translator (amplifier) station on the Gladstone bluff to serve the Escanaba-Gladstone area and environs, hopes for permission to build from the Federal Communications Commission "in the near future," says President Richard Abraham.

Abraham said that his company had hoped to win FCC approval for construction of the translator tower within 90 days after its application on April 22.

The license has been complicated by the application of WBAY-TV at Green Bay, operated by the Noblesville Family, for FCC permission to create a satellite installation here to boost reception of its programs. Many of WBAY's CBS programs are carried on WLUC-TV, Marquette and the FCC has ruled that with retransmission of the programs carried by the local station.

Cargo Plane Feared Down In Mountains

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UPI)—A Flying Tiger super constellation cargo plane with three persons aboard was overdue on a flight from Los Angeles to Chicago early today and feared down in the snow-whipped Colorado Rockies.

A pilot flying another plane in southern Colorado reported he saw a "bright flash in the sky" 30 miles northeast of Alamosa at 1:35 a. m. MST.

The search was the second underway for a downed plane in Colorado. A massive air and ground search was started in northern New Mexico and southern Colorado for a missing light plane carrying Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, director of U. S. space medicine.

That plane, with Lovelace, his wife and a pilot aboard, disappeared Sunday on a flight from Aspen, Colo., to Albuquerque, N. M.

A Colorado CAP official said identities of the three persons aboard the Flying Tiger cargo plane were not available.

Hooker Resigns State Position

LANSING (UPI)—Leland W. Hooker of Houghton, appointed to the State Conservation Commission in 1963, has resigned for "personal reasons" with more than three years of his term remaining.

Gov. George Romney, in announcing the resignation Tuesday, expressed his regret at the loss of the 46-year-old Hooker, who is an associate professor in the forest products division at Michigan Technological University. Under the new Executive Reorganization Act, the conservation commission is to be reduced from seven to five members, with not more than three being of the same political party.

The resignation of Hooker, a Republican, leaves four Republicans and one Democrat on the commission. Dr. Stanley Cain of Ann Arbor, a Democrat, was not replaced when his term expired last April.

At least one remaining Republican will have to leave before the end of the year to be replaced by a Democrat. Ramsey said Tuesday he is "confident" some present members will be retained, although he had not decided on the full make-up of the commission.

The only Democrat now on the commission is Chairman E. M. LaRita of Hancock. Republicans are Carl T. Johnson of Cadillac, Harry H. Whitely of Rogers City, Robert C. McLaughlin of Detroit, and Robert F. Brevitz of Battle Creek.

Carol Niemela Returns Home

Carol Niemela, sophomore at the Rock High School, returned early Sunday morning from her trip to the "Sew-it-Yourself-With-Wool" contest, held at East Lansing Saturday, Dec. 11.

Carol's three piece outfit was judged as being the most appropriate in pattern and fabric for her type. She received woolen fabric as an award. The fashion show was held at the Union Hall on the Michigan State University Campus. Judging was done on modeling, as well as construction of garment. There were 22 entries.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is a help for a child just learning to play with paper cut-out dolls:

With a crayon, mark the back of each doll, and the back of the articles which belongs to it, using a different color or design for each doll.

This helps the child sort out the articles pertaining to the different dolls and saves mother from having to separate them.

Even if one set were to get mixed in with another, the child can arrange them easily. My mother used this method for me when I was small, so I knew it worked then, as it does now for my daughter.

Peggy J. Cooper

Dear Heloise:

The other day, while I was down town, I got some gum on the back of my dress.

I took a piece of adhesive tape from my purse, rubbed it gently on the gum, and got every bit of it off.

Keep a piece of adhesive tape in your purse for such emergency uses.

Ann Berendes

Ann is right!

Scrape off as much of the gum as possible, then press the tape down on it. Then, pull straight up and the gum will come out of the fibers of the material.

Bless you for passing this hint along.

Heloise

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Dear Heloise:

When knitting stockings, mittens, etc., I always save any left-over yarn to use for mending.

The yarn matches the item exactly.

Jan Randall

Dear Heloise:

I am a "nut" on those paint-by-number pictures.

Once a picture is painted, the numbers do not mean anything. So, every time I open a jar, I paint a stripe right across the top of the lid. In this way I always know what color it contains.

These little jars of paint come in handy lots of times.

I have even touched up some old earrings, and they look like new.

Dear Heloise:

This is a man, sneaking in to your women's world of ideas and household hints.

But, I have the feeling that just as many men as women are reading your column.

When I look up a name in the telephone directory, and there is the possibility that I will need the same number again some time (such as TV repairman, dentist, co-worker, etc.), I underline the name and number, and put an "X" mark in the upper corner of that page in the directory. This makes it easy to locate if I need to call a particular number in the future.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D reaches Santa just as he is opening the magic mirror left by the Voodoo man. Santa does not look in the mirror, but the Fabulous Dunklebum does and is turned to stone.

CHAPTER NINE A SAD STORY

Mr. D snatched the mirror from Santa's hands, took it to the fireplace and smashed it into a thousand pieces.

But it was too late to save the Fabulous Dunklebum. The creature's lights had gone out and he had turned to stone.

"What is it?" cried Santa.

"What has happened?"

"It was the Voodoo man's mirror," said Mr. D. "He has already cast a spell over the whole of Santa Land. If you had looked into the mirror you, too, would have turned to stone."

"The VOODOO man!" exclaimed Santa turning pale.

"He's a wicked, wicked man in a long black cloak!" blurted out the little boy.

"I know him well. Oh, surely he hasn't been here!"

"Some and see!"

"How could a city bus get to Santa Land?" asked Santa.

They left the house and Santa ran through all the shops. He saw what they said was true. A terrible curse had been laid on Santa Land. Every elf and every reindeer had turned to stone.

Santa walked up and down. He twisted his hands and shook his head. All the good cheer had left his face.

"Why did he do it?" cried the little boy. "Why would anyone want to do such a thing?"

"Because he is the Voodoo man. Long ago he swore to destroy Santa Land and all the creatures in it. He hated Christmas, and all other days when people make merry. He wanted to get rid of all the good spirits in the world, and then he himself would rule the land."

"But I never feared him because he didn't really have much power. Moreover a friendly witch told me that the Voodoo man could never get to Santa Land unless he came on a city bus driven by a cross-eyed man. That was impossible, of course. How could a city bus get to Santa Land? But the witch was wrong, and the Voodoo man came some other way."

Mr. D's hands flew to his face. The crocodile and the donkey and the little boy stared at him in dismay.

"The witch was right," stammered the little boy.

"He came on a city bus," whispered the crocodile.

"With a cross-eyed man," moaned the donkey.

Mr. D took his hands down and Santa looked into his eyes and saw for the first time that they were crossed.

"But — the bus? Where is it?"

Where did you come from? How did you get here?"

Mr. D told him the bus was behind the hill at the end of the road. Then he told Santa how he had driven the bus up and down Main Street all his life until he couldn't stand it any more. He just had to find out what there was in the world beyond Main Street. So he put a sign saying "ZABBAZARA" on the side of the bus and drove out of town.

He picked up the crocodile and the donkey and the little boy because they were lonely and because they wanted to go, too, though they didn't know where Zabbazara was or even if there was such a place. Then he picked up the Voodoo man, who tricked them into driving to Santa Land.

"It's a sad story," finished Mr. D. "I never should have left Main Street."

But Santa's face had brightened. "Zabbazara," he murmured. "Zabbazara! How did you know about Zabbazara?"

"It — it's just a place I made up."

"Those are the best places!" exclaimed Santa. "And Zabbazara is the best place of all. Come — we'll go to Zabbazara. I think it is there we will find the charm to break the spell of the Voodoo man!"

Tarts Make A Delightful Yule Dessert

The holiday season is a time of wonderful eating pleasures. So many enticing specialty dishes appear on dinner tables . . .

These pretty and delicious Lemon Chess Tarts will help you finish off a holiday meal in gay style. Chopped candied fruit homeless and wanted to go, too, is mixed into a lemon-flavored filling which is similar to the filling of a rich chess pie.

The tarts are baked in individual pastry shells. Make them in an attractive petal shape, if you wish. Then serve the desserts chilled, with a crown of whipped cream on each. For an extra little festive touch, sprinkle red or green candy glitter on the whipped cream.

You'll note that the filling calls for bottled lemon juice. It's more economical and convenient than having to squeeze fresh lemons.

Lemon Chess Tarts
12 small baked pastry tart shells (may be made in petal shape)

2 eggs, beaten

1 cup sugar

1/2 cup butter

1/3 cup ReaLemon bottled lemon juice

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup chopped candied fruit*

1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

1 teaspoon vanilla

Whipped cream, if desired

In a heavy saucepan, combine eggs, sugar, butter, ReaLemon bottled lemon juice and salt. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add candied fruit; cool. Chill several hours or overnight, until mixture mounds when spooned. For serving, stir in walnuts and vanilla. Spoon in tart shells. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Yield: 12 tarts.

Soph Hits Free Throws

Rapid River Edges Cooks By One Point

RAPID RIVER—A pair of free throws by sophomore Alan Pasi with two seconds remaining in the game gave the Rapid River Rockets a 69-68 victory over Cooks in a Central League barn burner here Tuesday night.

Pasi's two free throws put Rapid ahead, 69-66, and Cook's Mike Swagart hit the target on a desperation toss from mid-court at the buzzer to narrow the final deficit to one point.

Rapid River took an early lead in the game but couldn't hold it against the hustling Clippers who rallied to carry a three point margin into the final frame.

The lead changed hands with each bucket down the stretch with Rapid River leading 65-64 with a minute to go. Phil Hartman put Cooks ahead 66-65 with a pair of free throws but Pat Larrabee banged in a long jumper to give Rapid the lead, 67-66. Pasi's free throws followed at the 302 mark.

Phil Hartman of Cooks took scoring honors with 27 points and turned in a tremendous floor game for Coach Norman Jahn.

Three Rockets reached double figures, headed by Larrabee with 21 points. Dick Forslund hauled down 18 rebounds for Coach Bill McGovern's league leaders.

Outscored by two field goals, 23 to 26, the Clippers pumped in 16 of 21 free throws. The Rockets converted 13 of 26. Both teams attempted 63 shots from the field.

Rapid River won the jayvee game, 53-33.

Detroit Lions Lose Cogdill

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Lions have lost the services of another of their starting offensive unit players, split end Gail Cogdill, for their final game of the year Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles.

Cogdill missed the first four games of the 1965 season with a fractured kneecap. The right knee has been reinjured and the Lions announced Tuesday he will undergo surgery after the first of the year.

One of the top receivers in the National Football League, Cogdill entered the 1965 season as the top yardage gainer in Lion history. He had caught 234 passes for 4,199 yards.

This year his injury kept him from seeing full-season action and he finished with 20 receptions for 237 yards.

The Lions have already been riddled by injuries, losing top-notch flanker Terry Barr, running back Joe Don Looney and halfback and kick-return specialist Tommy Watkins several weeks ago.

Eagles Measure Maroons, Grab Sole Loop Lead

STEPHENSON — The Stephenson Eagles established themselves as the team to beat in the new Great Northern Conference basketball race by slugging Menominee, 66-50, here Tuesday night.

The Eagles were in command throughout the game and iced their fifth straight triumph with a 22 point production in the final quarter as Dave Bush and Roger Wood zeroed in for five field goals between them. Bush, veteran Stephenson guard, had one of his finest nights with 16 points, six assists and 11 rebounds. Irv Kranberg snatched 16 rebounds and Ron Fredericksen 12 as the Eagles hauled down a team total of 47.

The Maroons, who had their four game victory streak snapped by Marinette Central last weekend, were paced by junior Pat Miller with 14 points.

Stephenson returns to action at Escanaba Friday night.

Rookie Cager Hits 53 Points

NEW YORK (UPI) — All it takes to score 57 points in the National Basketball Association is a bit of confidence.

This is the theory of Rick Barry, who proved his point Tuesday night by scoring an NBA season high against the New York Knickerbockers. The 57 points were not enough, however, as the Knicks recorded their third straight victory, 141-137.

"I felt real loose out there," the 6-foot-7 rookie said following his outstanding performance, which topped a 53-point effort by Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia in October.

Central Snaps Eastern String

YPSILANTI (UPI) — Central Michigan ended the five game winning streak of Eastern Michigan, handing the Hurons a 79-75 setback Tuesday night.

Eastern cut the Central lead down to 74-72 with just under two minutes left in the game but couldn't get any closer, despite the 29 point performance of Rod Marlatt.

It was the fifth win of the year for Central Michigan, also with one loss, paced by the 24 points of Don Edwards.

Trenary Posts Overtime Win

TRENARY — The Trenary Comets stepped outside the Central League last night and battled to a 58-53 overtime decision against National Mine.

National Mine knotted the score at 51-51 at regulation time when John Roberts clicked on the first of a 1-and-1 free throw opportunity with two seconds remaining.

In the overtime Trenary's Dennis Ylinen, who had scored only one field goal in the game, popped in a pair of shots and Kim Peterson added a field goal and a free throw.

Peterson paced the Comets with 32 points and 21 rebounds.

'Skins Scalp Tiger Cagers

HERMANVILLE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins scalped arch rival Powers-Spalding 81-60 here Tuesday night, running their victory string to five games and retaining their share of first place with the unbeaten Channing Railroaders.

Hermansville entered the fourth quarter with a 62-34 cushion and Hill called on his bench.

Balanced scoring was the story as the Redskins put five players in double figures, led by LaCoursier and Wellings with 18 points apiece. Individual scoring honors went to Bill Hawrylow with 21 while Scott Riedy added 16 and Mark Riedy 10 for the Tigers.

Hermansville was hot from the line with 13 of 19 free throws and clicked on 34 of 83 from the field for 41 per cent.

Hermansville made a clean sweep of it by winning the preliminary 84-54 for the third victory in four starts for Coach Jim Frost's jayvee quint.

Green Bay Favored To Capture Crown

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers were installed as seven-point favorites today to win the Western Division championship of the National Football League Sunday by beating the San Francisco 49ers.

Odds makers also made Tennessee a six-point choice over Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Tex., Saturday and Mississippi a six-point pick over Auburn in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., in college games marking the start of the major bowl spectaculars.

The Packers will go into their game with a 10-3 record compared to the second-place Baltimore Colts' 9-3-1 mark and the third-place Chicago Bears' 9-4 record. The Colts are rated even with the Los Angeles Rams, while the Bears are 13-point choices over the Minnesota Vikings.

The New York Giants are three points over the Dallas Cowboys, the Cleveland Browns are seven points over the St. Louis Cardinals, the Philadelphia Eagles are five over the Detroit Lions and the Washington Redskins are 10 over the Pittsburgh Steelers in other NFL games.

In the American Football League, the Boston Patriots are seven points over the Houston Oilers, Saturday, and the Kansas City Chiefs are 10 over the Denver Broncos, the San Diego Chargers are four over the Oakland Raiders and the Buffalo Bills are two over the New York Jets on Sunday.

Atlanta Lands Tommy Nobis

ATLANTA (UPI) — The big redhead sat in the glare of the bright lights with a calmness that belied his youth.

His name was Tommy Nobis; occupation, football player.

He had come to Atlanta for only a few hours to tell why he had decided to cast his lot with the Atlanta Falcons, the new National Football League team that has yet to play its first game.

At his side was a grinning Rankin Smith, owner of the Falcons and the man who had signed the 230-pound University of Texas All-America linebacker to a contract reported to exceed $225,000.

Why Atlanta? Nobis was asked.

"I've always wanted to play in the NFL," he replied. "There's no doubt in my mind that it has the best teams and the best players. If I had chosen the AFL, I would always have wondered how I would have stacked up against the NFL players."

Do you think, he was asked, that you are better than Dick Butkus, the star rookie linebacker of the Chicago Bears?

"That," answered Nobis without flinching, "is something we will all find out next season."

"This was the biggest decision I'll ever have to make," the 23-year-old Nobis said. "I kept turning it over in my mind. The reason that it took so long—more than two weeks—was that I had to be sure there were no lingering doubts."

Nobis' problem was to choose between the Falcons and the Houston Oilers of the rival American Football League since both teams had made him their No. 1 draft choice.

He had plenty of advice, including a recommendation that he pick Houston from astronaut Frank Borman out in space aboard Gemini 7. Borman, whose two sons are ball boys for the Oilers, commented when he heard Nobis had signed with Atlanta: "A sad day in Mudville."

Fullback Dies; Autopsy Slated

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Doctors will perform an autopsy today on the body of Mack Lee Hill, Kansas City Chiefs' fullback, who died following routine surgery on his knee.

A Menorah Medical Center spokesman said Hill's mother, Mrs. Elma Hill of Quincy, Fla., gave permission for the autopsy late Tuesday night.

The American Football League football player's temperature soared to 109 degrees in five minutes following surgery Tuesday and he went into convulsions.

A team of 10 physicians managed to keep him alive for about one and one-half hours with cold pack treatments and artificial breathing devices, but the 25-year-old Negro never regained consciousness.

Jack Valdeserri, public relations director for the Chiefs, said doctors told him a "sudden and massive embolus" killed Hill. An embolus is a large clot of blood or air.

"We have been told that this type of embolus which caused death is totally unpredictable and unpreventable," Chiefs' coach Hank Stram said. "But it's impossible to find comfort in any explanation."

"He was probably the most selfish player I ever coached," Stram said. "He was completely dedicated to the team—football was his life."

The 236-pound athlete, who was engaged to be married, tore the ligaments in his knee last Sunday in a game with Buffalo.

Mack (The Truck) Hill came to the team a virtual unknown in 1961.

But he finished the season as the Chiefs' second leading rusher with 567 yards on 105 carries, a 5.4 yard average—high among AFL rushers.
